CHAP. I.

The Nature of a Mortgage. Diversity between Mortgage of Lands and Pledging of Goods. Mortgage not meerly a Trust in Equity. Parol Agreement to be a Mortgage after a Conveyance. Ortgage is derived of two French words, Mort, i. e. Mortuum; and Gage, that is, Vadium or Pignus; as it a Feoffment be made upon such Condition, that if the Feoffor pay to the Feoffee at a certain day, &c. Forty Pounds, then the Feoffer may reenter, &c. in this Case the Feoffee

Mertuum vadium, & vivum vadium,

Feoffee is called Tenant in Mortgage: The Cause why it is called Mortgage is for that it is doubtful whether the Feoffor will pay at the day limited fuch a Sum or not, and if he doth not pay, then the Land which is put in Pledge upon Condition for the payment of the Money is taken from him for ever, and so dead to him upon Condition; and it is so called also to diffinguish it from that which is called Vivum vadium. Vivum autem, dicitor vadium, quia nunquam moriturex aliqua parce quod ex fuis proventibus acquiratur; as it a Man borrows One hundred Pound of another, and maketh an Estate of Lands unto him, until he hath received the faid Sum of the Issues and Profits of the Lands, so as in this case neither Money nor Land dies or is lost. 1 Inft. 205. a.

Diversity between Mortgage of Lands, and Pledging Goods.

There is a Difference between Mortgage of Lands, and Pledging of Goods. For the Mortgagee hath an absolute Interest in the Lands, but the other hath but a special Property in the Goods to detain them for his Security. Pledging doth not make an absolute Property, but is a delivery only till he pays, &c. fo it is a Debt due unto the one, and a retainer of the thing to the other, for which there may be a redemand at any time upon Payment of the Money. But in case of Mortgage of Land, at his Peril he ought to redeem it in his time. Cro. Jac. 244. Sir John Ratcliff versus Davies. Tel. 178. In the case of Pledge, the general Property continues to the first Owner.

1. Q. What Interest John C the Bargainor provise, Not had by this Agreement with the Bargainee, to intermeddle that he should not intermeddle with the Te, with the actual nements till default of Payment? Whether Possession till he was Leffee for fo many Years, or only in What Interest as Tenant at Will or Sufferance; for it is not paffeth. a Covenant or Agreement with the Bargainee that he shall enjoy it during those Years, which had been a Leafe, but he is only Tenant at Will of the Bargainee, or Tenant at Sufferance.

2. 2. Per Cur, when the Bargainor corred, as hall be conceived by the words, Yielding up the Tenements at the end of the Term, if he were a Diffeisor before (as they did not agree that he was, because neither the Lessor nor Leffee intended to make any Diffeifin, the Leffee claiming but his Term ) it was Otherwise it would be a mischievous Case in many Affurances, where the Mortgagor being in upon Condition to pay at the end of the Year, and in the Interim that the Mortgagee shall not meddle, who makes a Leafe for half a Year, and after reenters before the Day of Payment, that he should be a Diffeifor against fished and whis own intent, and the intent of the Bargainee, that the Bargainee shall be faid to be out of Possession, so as he cannot make a Bargain and Sale at his Will; by this means many Affurances would be destroyed. Eliz. Radford being possessed of a Lease for a long Term, Married John Holland; then he and his Wife Mortgaged their Interest and Term of Years unto John Emersome for the payment of 22 l. Eliz. dies before the day of Payment, and John Holland her Husband paid the Money at the day, in Redemption of the Mortgage, and entred and made Anne his Wife Executrix, who enered : John Radford took Administration of the Goods of Eliz. 2. Qu. In as much as the Defendant's Se-A Morrgagee curity was only out of the Rectory, and the buying in a Security he bought in from Beddingfeild was precedent Security of both the Manor and Rectory, the Defenin his Morrgage dant should make use of Beddingfeild's Seculand other rity as to the Manor, after that by the Pro-Lands, shall fits of the Manor and Rectory Beddingfeild's hold all against Debt was satisfied, and whether the Plaintiff should not then be admitted to enjoy the Manor, his Security being as well of the Manor as the Rectory, and the Desendant to hold only the Rectory till he was satisfied?

Wyld and Twisden were of Opinion, That after Skipwith had received what was due on Beddingfeld's Security, he should receive no more Profits of the Manor, but the Plaintist to be Let in to receive them, and the Defendant only to make use of Beddingfeild's Security as to the Rectory, to protect his Security of the Rectory; but it was resolved and ruled, That the Desendant should hold both the Manor and Rectory against the Plaintiss, till all due to him on both the Securities was paid him.

The Defendant pleads the Mortgage to Calamy, and that afterwards hearing of precedent Incumbrances, they bought in a Legal Title precedent to the Plaintiff's; and offer, if the Plaintiff will pay all due on the Mortgage, and on their new acquired Title, to affign all to him; but if he will not, they ought not to discover what Estate that is they have bought, nor ought cedent Incum- their Title be drawn under Examination pleads he ought in Equity, and by way of answer denied, not to discover that to their knowledge or belief Mr. Calamy had any notice of the Rent Charge when he lent his Money, and the Plea was allowed good. Ch. Cases 149. Higgen and Siddall.

The like to this was Mach and Lees Cafe. 22 Car. 2. and the like Plea pleaded and allowed to be good, and the Estate protected by a Statute.

A Mortgagee may protect himself by getting in an old Incumbrance, though nothing be due upon it. But a Statute bought in by a Mortgagee ought not to be used to Lands not in his Mortgage, the Statute being but an Incumbrance and no Estate.

In Primate and Jackson's Case, Grove and Grove's Cafe, and Mr. Calamy's Cafe, it was resolved in Chancery, That a Purchaser or Mortgagee coming in upon a valuable Confideration without notice, and purchasing in a precedent Incumbrance, it shall protect his Estate against any Person that hath a Mortgage subsequent to the first, though before the last Mortgage; and though he purchased the Incumbrance after he had notice of the second Mortgage.

In Hacket and Wakefeild's Case, in Scaccario, Hards 172. the Plaintiff was a Purchaser tor Statute not to be used as to Lands not in Mortgage.

for a valuable Confideration of 601. per Annum for Lives, and the Defendant afterwards took the Lands fo charged in Mortgage, and being informed that the Plaintiff was before him in time, he took Assignments of three Recognisances prior to the Plaintiff's Title, two of which were for Money, and the third for Counter-fecurity, upon which he extended all the Lands charged; and now the Plaintiff feeks by his Bill a discovery of the Nature of those dormant Incumbrances. and for what cause contracted, and what was actually received and paid upon them, or by perception of Profits fince the Extent. To which the Defendant pleaded his Mortgage, and subsequent to that his Purchase of the other Incumbrances to corroborate his Security, and that therefore he ought not to make any Discovery. But the Court overruled his Plea, and ordered him to Answer, and that the Matter of the Plea should be faved to him at the Hearing. Though it was otherwise ruled in Chancery; and Baron Turner said, If the prior Incumbrance that Divertity be was taken in had been a Fee-simple upon a tween Charges Forfeited Mortgage, that then the second on the Land, and Interest in Mortgagee or Purchasor should not have a the Land, as to Discovery, because then the whole Estate Discovery. was absolutely in the first, and confequently the fecond would have no Interest in it; but here the first Incumbrances were only Charges upon the Land, the Conusees having no Interest in it. This was in the Exchequer, 12 Can 2.

S. thereby hoping to have his own Debt that was mesne satisfied, but the Plaintiff having extended, and being evict by Tryal on the first Judgment, prayed the Defendant might Account and take Payment thereof, that so he might be let in; which Finch, Chancellor, decreed, albeit the fecond Judgment was precedent to the Plaintiff, being never extended, but Purchased for small Value to save the Debt by Obligation, which was faid to be contrary to the accustomed Practice of the Court. 2 Keb. 754

K. brought an Ejectment to recover Possession, and hanging this as. figns the term to Sir Cb. Muddiford. Sir Ch. Muddiford makes a Mortgage of it for a 100 Years to H. Coventry, without taking notice of the first Mortgage by way of recital, but demised this to him by way of original Mort. gage, as if he had been owner of the Land, and after this the first Mortgage Money is paid to Sir Charles by the Mortgagor, and he affigns the original Mortgage to him, and he for valuable consideration, conveys the Inheritance to the Defendant Williams, and delivers to him the original Deed of Mortgage, so the Plaintiff who claims as Executor to Coventry had it not to produce, but he produceth a Copy of the Infolment of it to make his Title. Divers things were objected for the Defendant: 1. That the Copy is not Evidence. Sed Cur. contra: 2. The consideration of the first Mortgage is not proved, and the confideration paid by Wilon Money paid liams upon the Purchase is void, and so the first Mortgage voluntary and void against on Affignment him; but the confideration paid by Sir Charles Muddiford being proved upon the Assignment made to him, the Court held this sufficient to maintain the first Deed of Mortgage, for this was a Deed, and the confideration paid by Muddiford upon the Assignment to him before the Purchase of the Defendant, made this a Deed upon valuable confideration, although it was not so at first. Quer. faith the Reporter, for the contrary hath been held;

It was objected, That all the Affignments beside the first being made off the Land, and this by the Mortgagee without the joyning of the Mortgagor, were void; the Parties being out of Possession at the time of the Assignments, It was urged, that the first Affignment by the Mortgagor only was good. The Mortgagor by the Covenant to retain Poffefsion unto default of payment, this makes the Mortgagor Tenant at will to the Mortgagee; but when the Mortgagee had made the first Assignment, by this the Tenancy at will determined, and the Mortgagor by retainer Mortgagee for of the Possession afterwards was a Disseisor, Years out of and fo all the Affigments by the Mortgagees actual Poffeffibeing out of Possession without the concur-on, Assigns it, rence of the Mortgagor are void, and the yet good. rather in this case, because Muddiford had brought an Ejectment before his Assignment, and by this had admitted himself out of Possession before, and at the time he made the Affignment or Leafe to Coventry. But Cur. held all the Assignments good; for although the Tenancy at will was determined, the Mortgagor was yet Tenant at fufferance, and not of necessity a Disseisee, and the bringing of the Ejectment is not but an admittance that he was in actual Possession. but not of an actual Diffeisin, and so the Jury found pro Quer. Now it was the Opinion of the Lord Keeper and the Mafter of the Rolls in Pear Jon and Pulley's Case, 20 Car. 2. In this Cafe it was a great Question, Whether there may be a Right or Equity of Redemption against the King? The Case was, Pawlet Mortgaged Lands in Fee to Ludlow for 3:05% and bound himself in a Statute and sainst the King. Recognisance to perform Covenants, and to pay the Money at a day. The day is past, the Money not paid, the Mortgagee by his Will devised all his Goods, Chattels, Debts and Personal Estate to his Executors. Edward Ludlow, Senior, and Heir of the Mortgagee, is Attainted of High-Treason, the King seiseth, and the Executor extends the Plaintiff's Lands upon the Recognisance, who thereupon exhibits his Bill against the King and the Executor, and fuggests that he could not pay the Money at the Day and Place by reason of the Plague; and that afterwards the Mortgagee accepted the Interest, and waved the Forfeiture. It was held, That in natural Justice, Redemption of a Mortgage lies against the King, as well a there is Redemption against the Lord by Escheat (for so the King comes in here, and not Jure Prerogativa ) but the King cannot be compelled to Convey. He died, the Money not being paid, the Heir preferred a Bill to Redeem it. It was urged for him, That in a Conveyance which was a Security for Money whatever Covenant there is to exclude Redemption, such Covenant would not be regarded in this Court, and that the Person to whom the Conveyance was made might have had a Bill in the Life time of him that conveyed, to have a time fet for the payment of the Money, or to be foreclosed. But the Lord Keeper difmis'd the Bill. In a Common Mortgage he faid fuch Covenant is not regarded, but this was made with an Intention of Settlement of his Estate, beside the Consideration of the Money paid, and he denied he should have been limited to any time for the Payment of the Money by Decree here, for this Court cannot shorten the Time that is given by express Covenant and Agreement of the Parties, but when that time is past, then the practice is to foreclose. 2 Ventr. 364. The Release was a consideration precedent of the Promise, and the ground and foundation of the Action, and until this was done the the Plaintiff had no cause of Action vested in him; and for that also, it was not the intent of the Parties, that the Release should be a discharge of the Duty which was to be created by it: And the Case of Potter and Phillips 218. 2 Cr. 627. was cited. A Writ of Error was brought, and the Judgment given in the Common Pleas was affirmed, That the Defendants promise is not released. was urged at the Bar, That if the Plaintiff might have an Action upon the Defendants promise before the making of the Release, that
